

highlife CHANGE YOUR VIEW APRIL

LONDON'S HIDDEN GEM

Best of British Luxury Shopping

The Burlington Arcade has been a true luxury landmark in London since 1819. Housing more than 40 specialist shops and luxury footwear brands, including Jimmy Choo's only UK menswear store, shoppers will find rare gemstones, vintage watches and the finest leather and cashmere accessories. Discreetly located between Bond Street and Piccadilly, the Arcade has long been favoured by royalty, celebrities and the cream of British society.

Burlington Arcade Favourites

The Burlington Arcade is the destination in London for those wishing to see the exquisite craftsmanship and luxurious quality of Britain's best designers.

Avant-gard jeweller Theo Fennell puts a modern twist on classic elegance in his unusual pieces, while Wright & Teague make all its British-designed jewellery on the premises. A visit to interiors specialist LINLEY will be an inspiration to any homeowner and to leave the Arcade with a scent that will encapsulate your time in London visit the expert perfumiers at Penhaligons.

Wright &

Penhaligons

quintessential footwear

Put your best foot forward with Harrys of London, Crockett & Jones, Church's and Jimmy Choo – some of London's finest shoemakers for uncompromising quality and fit. The vast array of luxury and bespoke styles on offer at the Burlington Arcade makes it the shopping destination with the largest selection of men's footwear in central London.

The Burlington Arcade has provided the location for major films such as Patriot Games (Harrison Ford), 101 Dalmatians, and Scandal.

*luxurious*leather

The Burlington Arcade houses some of the City's oldest and best manufacturers of leather. To always travel in style head to Pickett, Lulu Guinness, Sermoneta and Globe-Trotter, which all offer a wealth of luggage, handbags and accessories in keeping with the classic British character.

Lulu Guinnes

beauty the past

Discover a dazzling array of antique and historic jewellery from stores including Hancocks, Susannah Lovis, Richard Ogden, Tessier and Matthew Foster and newly created pieces from Hirsh, Hemming and Milleperle.

